Can you find out the deep things of God?
...ask the animals and the birds of the air;
ask the plants of the earth and
they will teach you
and the fish of the sea will declare to you.
In God's hand is the life of
every living thing
~Job: 11:7, 12: 7-10

Food for Body and Soul: The Spirituality of Food

November 13-15, 2009

$245 Cdn.

Whether it's a family meal, an intimate dinner in a fine restaurant, or the Eucharistic meal, food has always been about more than physical nourishment.

The industrial model of producing food, coupled with our busy lifestyles, has severed our spiritual relationship with food and the Earth that produces it. Such a disconnect contributes to the ecological crisis.

This weekend retreat, given by members of the Ecology Project, along with farm, retreat, and kitchen staff, seeks to celebrate God's gift of food while reconnecting people to the Earth and the food it gives them. The meals will be a key component of the retreat.

Choosing Life: Working for Ecological Justice

February 26-28, 2010

$245 Cdn.

This guided retreat is an opportunity to pray and reflect on the Christian call of conversion and solidarity. It's an opportunity to understand how Christian principles, including principles of Catholic Social Teaching, help us to think about what it means to be in solidarity with the whole of creation. It also shows us how and why we can work actively on behalf of justice for the earth. Spiritual direction will be provided.

Fruit of the Earth, Work of Human Hands: An Ignatian Ecology Retreat

July 23-31, 2010

$725 Cdn.

Retreatants will be encouraged to experience God's awe-inspiring presence and activity in Creation. This experience will offer inspiration and nurturing for hope-filled action expressing God's healing power.

Through the lens of food, retreatants will be encouraged to experience God's beauty in the farmland.

Food nourishes us both physically and spiritually. Such an appreciation for our daily bread contrast with a consumerist disconnection from food that is part of the current ecological decline. Can we hear the passion of Jesus in the cry of the Earth?

This guided retreat, following the dynamics of the Spiritual Exercises, includes a daily theme talk, personal spiritual direction, outdoor liturgies, and group sharing. The retreat will be facilitated by members of the Ecology Project Working Group, and the Loyola House retreat team.
